REVIEW ACCELERATOR

Review Accelerator uses a traffic light system to clearly show what has and has not changed. It enables you to compare the same document type and same formatted document from the library of pre-agreed and used contracts.

It actually shows you all the decisions you made, and changes you made in a redline, so that all the legal experience you have invested over the years can be used by either yourself, your in house counsel or your law firm.

As many contracts have an 80% boiler plate component, the accelerator enables you to download just the paragraphs that have changed, so reducing unproductive re-reading as your lawyer will already know the context and can also be provided with a full redline of the two documents for completeness sake.

Upload various documents you have pre-approved with various risk appetites to give you an even better experience and use this tool to reduce the level of expenditure on the seniority of the lawyer required.

- Faster to review as clearer detail and focus on what has been changed.
- Look at the past decisions so rules can be followed so a lower grade and paid legal person can be used.
- Gives law firms and In House Counsel full visibility on past decisions on the most negotiated contracts the companies hold.
- Compares in most languages in the world.
